

INFORMATION ADDRESSED TO THE PERSONS, WHO UNDERTAKE INTERNATIONAL TRAVEL FROM CHINA

In the last few weeks in China and other countries (updated list of countries available on www.who.int, www.ecdc.europa.eu, www.gis.gov.pl), there have been confirmed cases of respiratory tract illness with symptoms including: body temperature above 38°C, coughing, shortness of breath and problems with breathing in general.

If you had been in China, in the last 14 days, and notice by yourself and suffer from any of these symptoms, please immediately notify a sanitary-epidemiological station or contact the nearest hospital with an infectious diseases department as soon as possible, in order to determine potential further steps in terms of laboratory tests and medical treatment.
